aiden.dunning@cripps.co.uk

I am a partner in the commercial team, providing practical and pragmatic advice on the day-to-day legal issues that arise within the businesses we support.

As a former GC and COO who held senior level leadership roles within US corporates, Private Equity and UK Plc organisations, I understand the issues faced by businesses and can focus on the important factors. I have been involved in several businesses that have been through significant periods of transition and so recognise where value can be added (or where value can be eroded if they are not addressed).

My track record shows a history of building and motivating teams to meet business objectives. I deliver results in difficult circumstances and am a proven, trusted advisor who invests personally in the teams and clients I serve.
