I am a partner in the residential estate team, recognised as a leading landlord and tenant practice, and head up our landed estates sector.

As a partner in the residential estates team, recognised as a leading practice in residential landlord and tenant law, I advise companies, trusts, developers, high net worth individuals and PLCs on all aspects of residential property. My practice is wide and varied but has a particular focus on prime central London and mixed use premises.

My areas of expertise include residential advisory work, asset management in a residential context, contentious and non contentious leasehold enfranchisement including high value, complex claims of flats and houses, security of tenure, licences to develop and restrictive covenants.

Areas of expertise:

- Residential landlord and tenant law
- Freehold disposals under enfranchisement legislation
- Asset protection in context of leasehold legislation (rights of first refusal and right to manage)
- Restrictive covenants. Complex licensing matters
- Ultra-high value enfranchisement of houses and flats
- Tribunal proceedings
