I'm an associate in the commercial team with a particular interest in technology, intellectual property and data protection.

I advise clients of all sizes on the drafting, reviewing and negotiation of a wide range of commercial contracts ensuring they understand their rights and obligations whilst minimising the level of risk to a commercially acceptable level. I also regularly assist clients in navigating subject access requests, complex data breaches and the adoption of new technologies within their business.

Area of expertise:

- Data protection
- Distribution agreements
- Technology and IT agreements
- Terms of supply / terms of purchase
- Outsourcing agreements
- Confidentiality agreements / non-disclosure agreements
- Intellectual property rights

Qualifications and memberships

- Admitted as a solicitor in September 2022
- Society for Computers and Law
