

Cripps enhances real estate team with new partner appointment

Top 100 law firm Cripps is pleased to announce the appointment of Paul Alger as a partner in its real estate team.

Paul, who will be based in Cripps' London office, has extensive experience in all types of real estate transactions, including investment, development, finance and landlord and tenant matters. He specialises in investment matters dealing with acquisitions, disposals, and asset management.

Paul joins Cripps from Shoosmiths where he acted for a diverse range of clients across the real estate sector, including investors, developers and occupiers. He is known for his expertise in acting on high-value, high profile investment transactions.

Head of real estate, Stephen Hedley, commented:

"We are delighted to welcome Paul to Cripps. His broad expertise across the real estate spectrum, coupled with his proven track record in handling complex and high-value transactions, will be a valuable addition to our firm and our clients. Paul will play a key role in continuing to grow our London practice and deepen the wide range of expertise we offer to clients."

Paul commented:

"I am excited to be joining Cripps' highly regarded real estate team. The firm's strong reputation and collaborative culture perfectly align with my own values and professional aspirations. I look forward to sharing my experience and working alongside the team to continue to deliver an exceptional service to our clients."